

182nd Knowledge Seekers Workshop, Thursday, July 27, 2017 (7 Hours)

(Talks about the secret of existence in the space and how to absorb energy directly from the environment, Soul created the organs of the body through its desire, , after half hour Caroline talks, ,)

(:11). Special program today, (7 hours) in 2 part. In Ghana we'll be on the TV press conference. We have been given guidelines by the government officials. (:14). In the teaching we are concentrating on the space T now that we have come to understand the power of the PI and Field Plasma. Field PI means everything to us and will become the essence of our energy and our existence. It is the way we'll absorb energy from the environment in the space. how we come to understand the capabilities of our own soul is important in 3 ways, first we do not need to depend on matter state anymore, the knowledge has been passed on enough that we can go into the next steps of the T which means we become independent of matter state, free from hoping that somewhere down the line we'll be receiving some matter state energy pack we call food. (:16). that allows us to survive. Now we have learned the secrets of creation, how we ?? interact and absorb its energies, and what we need from the energies becomes part of the understanding of the totality of the knowledge that has been brought forth over the past few months and years. This means that if you wish to have the status of joy you can create that state because you know the strength, if you want to create a status for the production of cells, it needs to repair an accident or arm or leg, you still can do it. If you come to the point where you reach a condition that you want to develop certain materials that satisfies the need of the point of manifestation of physicality, you can do it. the only thing now to teach is the filtering system. We have shown how to gather energies, you have learned how to create or to absorb, in yesterdays teaching where I explained how to get (energies) from different rates of breathing, from the source of the Creator Itself. And then once you do this how do you convert energies for the cell of the body or to a ?? Chip. How do you convert the condition of understanding to create a table or a communication line, these all become a reality, which means we learn how to convert fields. Once we have received it then we convert it to what we imagine. (:18). You desired to have an arm you create it through the understanding of the need of it, through the brain its structures and then it delivers it. You expect the structure of ?? 3 dimensional and then you can go, on say a 3D printer to develop what it is, and then you have the material in your hand. When the man matures to understand the conversion, you'll find out that he can do this with the strength and understanding of his own thoughts. You do not need to sculpture, that comes from the state of the mind and the man. This means you'll become very powerful in your desire, what we desire and wish to have we can achieve. What we want to achieve and what we need at the point of demand has become the limitation of the soul of the man and the conversion of the material. So when you see something in the space and you want to replicate it, it should be no problem. In time we'll learn how to divert fields and to absorb them and to give them. The essence comes that we have to learn from the structure of our own physicality, it is the same brain and then in resistance to or interactions of the fields we change it to different emotions or to different part of the physicality of the man. (:20). If you think of it, many of us, many times must have wondered how come the body has all these organs arranged, the liver, kidney and everything else. What was the desire or the initiator to have these, or did somebody come and plan a 3D man and then the structure was put in like what I call a CD for them. In fact you'll learn with time as we develop the knowledge fo the transfer of the fields in between strengths that these systems will lead to the creation and generation of the other systems to balance themselves. This means that once you desire to digest a food which you need or you think you'll like to be able to digest, then the system of the body goes into operation to see how this food can be digested, what enzymes does it need, how does it need to change its production in its stomach that can satisfy the soul of the man, so the body goes into operation, the stomach produces acid for the absorption of this material, then if we do it enough the brain continuously seeks to satisfy the desire of the soul, will find that enzyme needed to digest that food. And then once you digest it the system builds itself that it can absorb it, then at the same time the liver goes into the process of storage facilities for this special thing otherwise it rejects it, because if you need it then you have to hold, the desire ?? it has to be done. Then it comes to the blood system and filtration and everything else, then the whole system adjusts itself. (:22). This is how we evolved, the evolution of the body of the man came in this way. So the short time that we in the space we learn a lot about these things. That our desire to have, to contain, to be able to enjoy the desire of satisfaction will lead the whole field structures to structure themselves in a way that allows the satisfaction.²⁷

(:39). I have enough trust in the strength of my existence

(:45). Kr. Keshe leaves for a conference return later.

(:50). The introduction videos that are played each time contain a lot of the totality of the knowledge. If this past half hour of Mr. Keshe's talk sounds difficult to you, we are going to have to learn to convert complexity into simplicity. Simplifying and making it so easy. I understand that it may be difficult for a lot of people because they have spent a life gathering knowledge but then listen here and their mind starts to spin and they wonder where the heck have I been, what have I been doing, and it is very difficult to connect. The simplicity is hidden in a simple way, don't make it complicated or use difficult words. How simple this process is just to do the Nano coating...

(1:44). Alzar asks Caroline, that Keshe said once that we come from the rays, but not all the rays come from the Origin, Creator, so does that mean that some of us don't come from the Creator, could there be crappy rays out there, so some of the souls are crappy? Keshe comes on, No Alzar. No such a thing exists in the world in the U. Sorry I have a few minutes I come in. If you look at the picture in Book #3 you see the little spin off (rays) that come off the Plasma at different strengths, all do not come from the main (Plasma) they come from the spin offs, and they still carry the essence of the Creator. If anybody has that photo of the Unicose PI you'll see that after the reduction they create the spin offs but they still carry the essence of the Creation the Main Plasma. So not everything comes from the Main, those are, because they interact they create a friction and then that creates a division of it, but they still come from the essence of the Origin because that is where they came from. (1:46). All of us carry the essence within us. Those who come direct from the light of the Origin are totally different and they carry the full knowledge. Is Jesus from the Main? You see if you read one of my papers, "The State of the Scientist as a Prophet of ", which means ... none of the Prophets taught mathematic, biology or any sciences, they came to enlighten the conduct of the man. We have the same messengers of the science and they come to enlighten man in the knowledge in respect to his environment. One tries to bring the knowledge in respect to the soul and physicality, and the other brings the (knowledge of) the environment of physicality. One we call the ?? and the other we call the prophet of the soul. So from now on the ones who come from the Main line (plasma) will carry both knowledge's, that of the soul and of science. I have written this in a paper and it is in the archives. From now on the Messengers will carry the knowledge of both because they have to link it and be able to that physicality leads to the essence of the creation of the soul and its control in respect to physicality. So you have to have a full spectrum, we come from the Origin and are the Origin and this is how it is carried. As you divide (? the plasma) more and more you still carry the essence of the Origin as you came from it. There are no, as the word you used, crappy ones. (1:48). We are all perfect, it is how we allow the perfection to manifest its beauty. To us somebody who is handicapped or one eye, there is something wrong with them, No, it's because their physicality has decided that for that they need attention of mercy or joy or whatever, but (only) on that point, in that dimension. ??? Most of us are spin offs and those who come from the direct line are the Creator, so they carry the full totality. Each one of us that are spin offs we become more specialized, put it that way, we become a doctor, or heart surgeon, then heart valve surgeon, then the opening of the valve, and it carries on, so each one has its own beauty, (1:49). Q: I am the beginning and the end, how come they are so opposite. ... break up ... (1:51). Why do you think you are so special, you are one of us, ... you see the structure of the U is very simple, you see we are part of the Totality, and without one the other parts can't exist, operate otherwise it has to find a new position, a new way of showing itself, and this is the difference. Having trust in ones own existence is the key to the U, when we trust in what we do, say, and act is right, we are right, we exist, we don't need to confirm that we are better, "the beginning or the end". It's a process that never finishes, you are the beginning of something and then the end so that you can become the beginning of something else. (1:53). Physicality finishes but now it becomes the freedom of the soul to start a new cycle. So there is no end. It is the ? continuum changes, when the man realizes this he will progress very rapidly. It is just the same but in different dimensions and containers, ?? if I put you in the water in a white ?? or pink ?? doesn't change the essence of the water inside it. Our existence is like a cup in different colors, dimensions, and ?? sizes, it is us that have to understand this otherwise in essence we are all the same. If you keep the cup on the frig or in the boiling water it's all the same still water. It's the environment that changes that shows itself as ice or steam or boiling water, The sooner man understands this the less problems he'll have in progressing to the next level. Alzar says she got the confirmation that her soul talks to her. If it talks to you it means you have found your soul. (1:55). ... the more we become aware of our existence the more we become aware of non-dimension of it, you don't need to get to the airport to find out there is a problem, the soul already arrived, he knows, this is the beauty of it, The more we become aware of the existence of it, we expand ... it doesn't need to be a field you can see and it shines and says this is my atmosphere. It means the more purer you become the more you feel the distance, you understand it before it happens. I have created a lot of problems for a lot of people this way, but they don't understand that the presence of the soul reaches the physicality long before the physicality arrives. I use a special terminology and the people close to me know what I mean, that has driven a lot of people crazy because I don't need to be at the point, my soul has expanded that it is at the point, I don't hear through the ear but the ears of the soul and they understand the impression of the soul and the sooner we understand this the much easier it becomes. At the moment we reach that point, physicality doesn't need to be there (1:57). Mr. Keshe goes off again.
