

263rd Knowledge Seekers Workshop - Thursday, February 14, 2019 (,)

(:11). .. Before we came on it was said we are talking about the C14 and today is the 14th on the Christian calendar, which is known as Valentines day or lovers day. I wonder how many of us will ?? the love of God in us and not the love of physicality if someone somewhere. It's a very strange phenomena for a lot of people to say that they are loved and want to be loved. I said, to Caroline the very first time that we come to this planet to enjoy the physicality and the love of man. It's something that is special and it has a lot of meaning. ... How do we love, it's part of an emotion and how come we feel the love in our heart, why do we feel love in our heart. The heart is the soul of physicality that's where ?? field come collectively, every cell of our body together to represent the manifestation of physicality, and this answers so many questions in what do we consider as love of the STM. I think the love of the STM in a very simple way is attachments of itself to physicality it's in the at point that bigger love, which is the love of the Creator sets in, and a new destination is set for the soul. In the past couple weeks I tried to attend as many teachings as possible to try to explain the New Dimension. ..

(:14). In the beginning I spent 12 weeks in Tranni, Italy to set the basis of the knowledge. ?? for the knowledge. As of today nobody can put a hair in it because it's so constantly correct. And now teaching the knowledge of the space and of the universe, needs that kind of dedication. ... I have relinquished all my positions in the KF and it's in capable hands and it gives me time to see the man's transition into understanding the U and universal conditions and connections of creating the condition of setting up ?? standard of man to move into the next level of peace, and it takes a lot of effort and time and it's not easy. In the essence of it, why do we do this? Is it love of the U Community for mankind to elevate to their position, or is it the love of the Creator trying to spread the message of equal ness among His children. Equality is a different word then being equal, it has a lot of comparison, but when you are equal there is no comparison. In what essence do we consider ourselves, in what way do we measure ourselves. Where do our feelings come into it. The feeling is the point of interaction of non-dimensional entity which the soul of the physicality and the STM. Emotion is the line of communication between the 2. One you feel in your soul, (:16). you in the dimension of physicality and you transfer the emotion. 06

(2:30). Q: In the past on the earth we had so many atom (bomb) explosions, what effect of those rays, did those explosions have on the sun and other planets and U? What do you mean? .. is this maybe the reason why the change is coming? (2:32). Very little, even though we glorify the planet earth it's a speck of dust, you can imagine if you have a speck of dust you don't expect it to touch the sun or Jupiter that much. But what has been looked at by the nuclear industry and weapons technology 55.

Q: size of core G or M?? .. It depends on how you N coated your coils and how you wound them, even in the PPU we set the outer ring to be G that in pulling from the atmosphere to feed to G. The original designs are with the G inside and M outside, in how you wind and how you produce Gans' to load dictate on what you are going to get. We consider MaGrav system as outside G, it's the way you N coat them ... because this is that we absorb energy from the environment and we feed it to the center core, (3:22). in a way absorbing, pulling, and the center core radiates by feeding back out. This is the phenomena, the understanding. Q: What about the phenomena, do we have to reverse the connection? You can do it either way, it's just that how you set your system up. The reason I brought that discussion up last year is that you have to understand the condition and why we came up with that knowledge. We consider it for a specific condition, all the PPU are set up this way. Q: ??? I don't understand. When a M current ??? (3:24). Rick says when there is a current in a coil it creates an inductance in the coil, an inductor is basically a magnetic field, can we use that magnetic field to control the PI? If you go to some of the teachings in the past few months I have explained that the MG fields of the system is part of it. I think the research with John, you can feel the fields above MaGrav units. Even in the MaGrav units there is a misconception that we just use it for energy, electrical power. We developed the MaGrav units as it is coming up, for the development of the PI. It is based on fields, this is what we call a composite power units. It's a hybrid if you call it, electric and plasma current. (3:26). The problem is that K Seekers have to start learning to play with these things. If you have developed field detectors you can check your systems and put them in the right order, what you thought was M suddenly changes to G, it depends on the field forces on the layers. This is why some of the MaGrav units don't perform because G field forces of the plates are too close to each other and it creates a blockage. ... The knowledge we give, share, is to be open minded and not just to be accepted, but to be tested and understanding that in a PI

T it's not electric current. That is only a ?? current. ?? joule field reaction. What you can enforce in the fields, or you can surrender teh fields into a system and then you decide and the system itself decides, (3:28). because you could have a few centimeters gap in the position of your MaGrav coils can make a big difference in the performance of your system. ... We hope we all share teh same goal. We'll see where we are going and how we are. The KF in the past few weeks is going through a phase, we don't announce anymore what we are doing .. we'll see major breakthroughs in what we are doing, and K Seekers who come after us will all put a brick in this wall to make it much stronger and taller. ... This knowledge needs thousands of years to be completed. (3:30). Q: What is the importance of mercury on this planet has it manifested as a precursor to the conditions of moving closer to the sun, it seems to be a solid liquid and gas combined as one to be together in teh matter state condition. Is that why man uses it in mirrors and thermometers, so what is its plasmatic significance? Nothing, it's another element created do to the condition of the U and if a body or structure has created the fields of it, it has attracted it or if you understand the work of its fields and what it can do you can use it for everything. It's not just because we use it for thermometers, there is a far amount of mercury in our body but it is used for a specific job. You'll find out that some of the elements in the body like in the kidney carry a composite of elements because now whatever you have in your blood they have to extract it. It's like what we see with the present element, they create a M field that matches teh poisons in teh blood and they just by M field they attract it, it's a magnet and then it transfers into matter. The whole body is that way. (3:32). So there is no specific reason, part of teh body needed, operation of a certain given M field, then to match it the body needed mercury, when you eat something it comes in, so this fits. The body of the man is the most opportunist ?? stick structure god ever created. Whatever came in, if I can use it converts it to how it can use it. You have a soul which is a programmer, it's a creator, let's see this is a new material, how can I adapt myself. What is what we call evolution, do you think it's just by accident. The ?? of the body is the most complex, but it's programmed to need use. If something comes available what can I do with it or extend to it. The most opportunist people in the world are football players, that they put themselves in a specific position and when it is there they score a goal. And so is the man, the body is in the same position.
